Aging & In-Home Services of Northeast Indiana recognizes honorees at annual meeting

Fort Wayne, IN – Aging & In-Home Services of Northeast Indiana, Inc. (AIHS) held its 44th Annual Meeting and Awards Ceremony today at the Parkview Mirro Center. Actor, activist and family caregiver Mike Farrell was the featured speaker. Two individuals and two organizations were honored with “Communities for a Lifetime - Awards of Excellence.” The 2019 honorees are:

- Larry Weigand, Weigand Construction, for his visionary work in northeast Indiana related to finding innovative solutions for both current and new space, then building or repurposing it to produce value for the client and provide value to the community.
- Rosalynn Carter Institute for Caregiving, for its longstanding support of caregivers through advocacy, education, research and service. Established in 1987 by former First Lady Rosalynn Carter, RCI is committed to building quality, long-term, home and community-based services through local, state, national and international partnerships.
- Coalition to Transform Advanced Care (C-TAC), for its dedication to the ideal that all Americans with advanced illness receive comprehensive, high-quality, person- and family-centered care that is consistent with their goals and values and honors their dignity.
- Dr. Malaz Boustani, Indiana University School of Medicine, for his work as a geriatrician, innovator, scientist, and vocal and internationally visible advocate for older adults. Dr. Boustani is passionate about improving patient outcomes, lowering healthcare costs, and creating better experiences for both patients and clinicians.
